

Congress Passes Rent Control Extension Bill

Curbs Will Last Fifteen Months

Washington, March 29—(AP)—Congress today approved a 15-month rent control bill with a "home rule" escape clause and sent the measure on to the White House.

The Senate cleared the measure first 78 to 11, with the House completing action by a vote of 263 to 143.

Although it does not contain as much as President Truman had asked, he is expected to sign the legislation to replace the present law which expires at midnight Thursday.

Major Provisions
1. States may scrap federal controls by vote of their legislatures and with the governor's approval, or they may take over administration of the curbs if the governor certifies that the state has adequate rent law on its books.

2. Rent ceilings are to be set so as to give landlords a "fair net operating income," as determined by the federal housing expediter.

3. Nationwide eviction regulations are to be set up by the expediter which will take precedence over local rules.

4. The expediter is empowered to sue for treble damages on a tenant's behalf in case of a rent overcharge.

The bill is a compromise between two different versions adopted earlier by the Senate and House.

Final passage climaxed weeks of heated debate during which time it appeared that the Senate filibuster might prevent any action to renew the curbs.

Administration leaders in both Senate and House told the lawmakers today they either had to accept the compromise plan or not have any rent controls after Thursday.

Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) tried unsuccessfully to send the bill back to the joint conference committee for another try at re-drafting the landlord's aid provision. But his motion was rejected by a vote of 53 to 33.

Bricker said the "fair net operating income" clause was meaningless, offered no more relief to landlords than the present law and "leaves it wide open for the expediter to make whatever rules he wishes."

Doctors Of British Socialized Service Demand Pay Boost

London, March 29—(AP)—Doctors in Britain's socialized health service demanded a pay raise today.

Some 400 of them, representing about 20,000 general practitioners in the British Medical Association, drafted a report asking for nearly double their present fees.

A doctor now gets 16 shillings ($3.60) a year for each national health service subscriber who registers in his office.

He can handle private practice at his own fees among patients who decide to stay out of the health service.

The report drawn up today asks for 35 shillings ($7.70) a year for each of the first thousand registered patients, and a scale sliding down to 22 shillings ($4.80) for each patient over 4,000.

State To Finance Investigation Of Chicago Colleges

Springfield, Ill., March 29—(AP)—The Illinois legislature today voted $2,500 to finance its investigation of "any and all subversive activities" at two Chicago colleges.

The assembly's seditious activities commission expects to begin looking into the University of Chicago and Roosevelt College within two weeks. One commissioner member said no hearings will be held on the campuses.

Senate approval of the $2,500 appropriation sent the bill to Governor Stevenson for his signature.

The legislature two weeks ago approved the investigation after a group of students demonstrated against the Broyles anti-communist bills which the Senate later passed and referred to the House.

Israel, Trans-Jordan Accept Terms Of Peace

Rhodes, March 29—(AP)—Israel and Trans-Jordan delegates accepted Armistice terms today and returned to their capitals for final approval of the draft.

United Nations officials immediately left for Damascus to start work on Armistice negotiations with another Arab State, Syria.

The Trans-Jordan agreement may be signed Friday, extending the Palestine Armistice that began when Egypt signed an accord Feb. 24. Lebanon signed an Armistice agreement with Israel March 23.

A settlement is yet to be concluded between Israel and Iraq, Yemen and Saudi Arabia of the Arab League. Of these Arab states, only Iraq was active in the Palestine warfare.

The agreement of terms between Israel and Trans-Jordan came after private meetings of Dr. Reuven Shiloah of Israel and Col. Ahmed El Jundi of Trans-Jordan, without the acting U.N. mediator, Dr. Ralph Bunche.

The official announcement said one "outstanding question" still was unsettled. It was believed this involved details of a face-saving agreement for reduction of forces in the Aqaba area, which King Abdullah's government at Amman will be asked to approve.

In a report to the U.N. Security Council, Bunche said Israel, Trans-

State House Group Backs 'Dog Bite' Bill For Illinois

Springfield, Ill., March 29—(AP)—Lawyers in the Illinois House today listened sympathetically to accounts of misery that snapping canines cause letter carriers.

Then by a 20 to 1 vote the House Judiciary committee endorsed the "dog bite" bill.

The bill would make a dog owner liable for damages his pet inflicts without provocation on a person who is "peacefully conducting himself in a place where he may lawfully be."

It is backed by the Illinois State association of letter carriers. Milkmen and meter readers are for it, too.

Fred Andrews, spokesman for the association's Chicago branch, said Chicago mailmen were attacked by dogs 650 times last year. Of these, 126 required hospital care.

Andrews said those who missed work got only $3.83 compensation for each day they were off the job. They had no legal right to sue for damages, he said, when the attack occurred on premises of the dog owner.

Boy Buys Nickel's Worth Of Candy With $1,145 Check

Dillon, S. C., March 29—(AP)—An eight-year-old negro boy bought a nickel's worth of candy at a grocery store here today and presented the clerk with a check.

Clerk Ches quick look at the boy, looked at the check, and called in the law. The check was for $1,145.

Deputy Sheriff Harvey Bethea and highway patrolman C. C. Berry took the youngster to county jail, where he was held without charge to await a hearing.

The lad told the officers he was walking to school with his six-year-old brother today when he found a key which he recognized as a post office key. He went to the post office and found the box which it fitted.

He removed the check, he told officers, then went to the grocery store, where all he wanted was a nickel's worth of candy.

Italy Asks U.S. Help To Get Colonies Back

Washington, March 29—(AP)—Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza of Italy appealed personally today to Secretary of State Acheson to back Italy's plan for regaining control of its war-torn African colonies.

During a one-hour conference, the visiting Italian statesman laid down his country's reasons for wanting to administer the three colonies under a United Nations trusteeship.

Sforza described his talk with Acheson as a "general friendly review" of current Italian-American and European problems.

Jordan and Britain all violated the truce agreement by sending reinforcements to the area. Britain and Trans-Jordan are allies.

(Christopher P. Mayhew, British undersecretary for foreign affairs, told the House of Commons in a written statement Tuesday Britain is challenging Bunch's report that Britain violated the truce.

The Trans-Jordan Armistice agreement affects only the front running from the area northeast of Tel Aviv to Jerusalem and south of Jerusalem to the Red Sea.

Left for future negotiation is the front of the so-called triangle in Central Palestine, about Nablus, Jenin and Tulkarm. This front was held by Iraqi troops during the fighting.

Man Scans Mails For A Key; The Right Key, That Is

St. Paul, Minn., March 29—(AP)—Buddie Barnick's heart's desire is a key.

Thousands of people are seeing to it that finding the key won't be simple.

Since he was put in leg irons Saturday on the Ralph Edwards truth or consequences radio show, Barnick has been the woe-filled receiver of more than 7,000 letters and packages. Many contain more than one key.

Of one thing he is reasonably certain: The right key will be in the mountain of mail growing on the floor of his small apartment.

He knows it's there because he unwittingly mailed it himself on instructions from Edwards. The letter was to one of Edwards' friends who was to send it to another who was to mail it to Barnick.

While Barnick hobbled out to a mail box with the letter, Edwards appealed to listeners to mail Barnick a key.

They did. Postmen delivered prison keys, juke box keys, mail box keys, coffee can keys, antique keys, wooden keys and just plain keys. He even got piano keys, typewriter keys and a promise of "whis-key."

Indict Himmaugh For Perjury At US Loyalty Hearings

New Orleans, March 29—(AP)—The country's first indictment charging false statements at a government loyalty hearing was returned here today.

Named in the six-count indictment was Robert Edgar Himmaugh, 43, of St. Rose, La., a former engineer of the Federal Bridge Lines.

Each count charged a false statement regarding Communist party membership or Communist activity. Three of the statements were made before a loyalty board and three in letters to commerce department officials.

U. S. District Attorney J. Skelly Wright said Himmaugh was discharged "as a direct result" of the loyalty hearing last fall.

A hint that more indictments of this type might be forthcoming was given by James E. Palmer, Jr., of Washington, special assistant to the attorney general, who aided the grand jury investigation.

In a formal statement announcing the indictment, Palmer said: "The present case being the first case of prosecution for falsehoods at a loyalty hearing itself, it should be a stern reminder to all who appear before loyalty boards to tell the truth or face the consequences."

That was the word today from chief defense counsel Arthur W. Richter who yesterday failed twice in different courts to obtain the release of the young bridegroom held for the first degree murder of 16-year-old Patricia Birmingham.

"It wouldn't be worth it for the few days from now until the hearing," Richter said. "If he's bound over to municipal court for trial then of course we ask for bail."

District and circuit judges yesterday declined to admit 19-year-old Milton to bail after Dist. Atty. William J. McCauley voiced opposition. McCauley, who obtained the 41-page confession from Babich Saturday, told Circuit Judge Daniel W. Sullivan he was "afraid if he is admitted to bail he might also decide to kill himself or some other person."

Series Of Retail Price Cuts Reduces Inflation

New York, March 29—(AP)—A new series of retail price cuts were laid before the consumer today, further clipping inflation's wings.

They stretched the dollar a little farther. But most of the reductions were from highly inflated levels and many of them were small.

Automobiles and auto accessories, radios, refrigerators, ranges were among the wide variety of items affected.

Continued reductions in such basic commodities as lead, zinc, copper and steel indicated there might be further cuts in manufactured goods in the wind.

The midseason spring catalogue of Sears, Roebuck and Co. featured

Stock Market Gets Boost From Lower Minimum Margin

New York, March 29—(AP)—A reduction in margin requirements gave the stock market one of the biggest boosts of the past year today.

Key stocks raced up $1 to an extreme of $4 a share, many to the highest prices of the year or longer. The general level of prices, as measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks, was at a high since Feb. 4.

Brokers reported demand came from all parts of the country. It was the most active market since Nov. 10 with 1,800,000 shares changing hands, or more than double most recent days.

The reduction in margin, to 50 per cent of the purchase price in cash from 75 per cent, will be effective tomorrow, Wednesday. Much of the buying, it was suggested, anticipated a rise when the new margins are actually in effect.

U.S. Protests As Czechs Convict 2 Soldiers Of Spying

Prague, Czechoslovakia, March 29—(AP)—The United States protested today against the conviction of two American soldiers at a secret trial on charges of spying against Czechoslovakia.

The soldiers, who wandered across the frontier from the U. S. occupied zone of Germany last December, were sentenced to long prison terms—one to 12 years and the other to 10.

The U. S. embassy declared the secret trial was held "without due regard for normal rights and safeguards."

The men, held in a Prague prison, are listed in U. S. army records as Recruit Clarence R. Hill, 31, of Jackson, Miss., and Recruit George R. Jones, 22 of Owensboro, Ky., absent without leave since Dec. 1 from the U. S. constabulary's sixth armored regiment.

The Czechoslovak press bureau announced today they were convicted of espionage at a secret trial Saturday. It said Hill was sentenced to 12 years and Jones, to whom it referred without explanation as "Alexander Jones, alias Hunter," to 10 years.

Defense Will Not Try Again To Get Bail For Babich

Milwaukee, March 29—(AP)—There'll be no further attempt to obtain bail for Milton Babich, admitted slayer of his sister-in-law, prior to his next court appearance April 12.

That was the word today from chief defense counsel Arthur W. Richter who yesterday failed twice in different courts to obtain the release of the young bridegroom held for the first degree murder of 16-year-old Patricia Birmingham.

"It wouldn't be worth it for the few days from now until the hearing," Richter said. "If he's bound over to municipal court for trial then of course we ask for bail."

Woman Gets Offer To Sell Husband

Derby, Eng., March 29—(AP)—Judge R. A. Willes said today an Austrian woman tried to buy the husband of a British woman for 260 pounds ($600).

He granted a divorce, on grounds of adultery, to Mrs. Florence Hilda Tongue, wife of Sgt. Arthur Henry Tongue, a British soldier stationed at Graz, Austria.

The judge said a letter was read from the Austrian woman to the wife, "whose husband she stole, offering to buy him with the payment of 200 pounds."

U.S. Stops Commies From Touring America

Newark, N. J., March 29—(AP)—A coast to coast tour of 18 Communist "world peace" conference delegates ended before it started tonight.

The state department spiked the proposed cross country journey of delegates from behind the iron curtain less than 12 hours before they were to appear at the first of a series of "no more war" rallies here.

The department said their U.S. visas were good only for last week-end's cultural and scientific conference for world peace in New York City.

Later, a spokesman for the conference said in New York that the communist delegates "definitely will not appear" at any of the scheduled meetings. "Unless Dean Acheson (secretary of state) reverses his ruling that their visas are to be considered as expiring."

The conference representative said a telegram had been sent to Acheson requesting him to rescind the order. The telegram, the spokesman said, charged the state department of "notifying the world it has slammed shut the door to the exchange of cultural relations between the United States and other countries."

The "cultural rally for peace" here was scheduled to go on without its star billed—Soviet composer Dmitri Shostakovich, delegates from Cuba, England and other nations outside the Soviet orbit were to speak.

In Washington, the state department notified the Russian embassy and those of its satellite nations that the delegates were admitted to this country only to attend the New York conference.

Delegates Will Leave Soon
The department said that now the conference is over, it assumed the delegates will leave within "a reasonable time."

Later, Attorney General Tom Clark said in answer to a question: "The express purpose for which these visas were issued has now been ended."

He said he has instructed the immigration service in New York to get in touch with the delegates individually and tell them that they must leave as soon as travel arrangements can be made.

Billed as the chief attraction at the rally, set for 8:30 p.m. (EST) at the Mosque Theater, is Dmitri Shostakovich, boyish-looking Soviet composer.

A spokesman said about 3,000 tickets, ranging from sixty cents to $4.80, had been sold for the rally. The Mosque theater seats 3,365.

Indians Tell U.S. To Stop Worrying About An Uprising

Washington, March 29—(AP)—Police you can stop worrying. No longer is there any danger of an Indian uprising. At least not in Minnesota.

The Indians themselves brought the news to Washington today—by Pullman. They also said they think the time has come when the American Indian can be considered an American, not an Indian.

This came out at a House hearing on a bill which would repeal certain federal laws dealing with Minnesota Indians. These laws say it's not legal to sell liquor to an Indian.

(Other federal laws ban the sale of liquors to Indians in other states, and these laws will be considered at a later hearing.)

The laws were passed back in the 19th century, when there doubtless was merit in the theory that an Indian charged with firewater might hanker for a nice, heavy-haired scalp.

But though the scalp is now safe, the law lingers.

The new command will include all U. S. army elements in Europe working in direct support of the Berlin airlift operations at Frankfurt and Wiesbaden.

Brig. Gen. Philip E. Gallagher, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, will head the command.

Dedicate Cosmic Ray Cyclotron In New York

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor
Rochester, N. Y., March 29—(AP)—Striking new knowledge for mankind was promised today at the dedication of the giant new cosmic ray cyclotron of the University of Rochester.

The promise was made by Dr. Lee A. Du Bridge, president of the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, Calif.

"The plain truth," he said, "is that no one can predict the practical results. If you are expecting the cyclotron to yield the design for a new and more powerful atomic bomb you are almost sure to be disappointed."

Other possibilities, but unsafe to predict, he said, are new nuclear power plant (atomic power plants), a cure for cancer, or a trip to the moon. He added:

"What this cyclotron will certainly do is just one thing—it will yield to the skilled physicists who work with it, new knowledge about the behavior, the structure and the characteristics of nuclei. And sooner or later this new knowledge will have striking, important and valuable uses to men."

The cyclotron is the world's second largest. The bigger one is at the University of California. This Rochester machine is more than a thousand tons of steel, and cost a million and a half dollars, mostly supplied by the office of naval research. The United States Atomic Energy Commission helped.

The giant is a hollow box of steel with both sides cut away so that you can look right through it. The top ends and bottom are four feet thick. They are part of an enormous electro-magnet.

In the three-foot space between the magnet poles is another steel structure, shaped like a flat pill box.

The box is a vacuum chamber. Inside it bits of hydrogen are set circulating until they reach speeds equivalent to 250,000,000 volts of electricity. A steel and copper rod as big as a man's leg, and longer, was bolted to the outside edge of the pill box.

On its inner end this great rod carried a tiny piece of carbon so light that holding it in your hand you did not feel the weight. It looked like the carbon on a lead pencil.

This tiny thing was the object of everything the thousand-ton monster was doing. Some of the speeding bits of hydrogen hit this tiny bit of carbon. From the impact emerged cosmic rays, known as mesons. These are tiny bits of matter, several hundred times heavier than electrons.

What these mesons really are is unknown. Unraveling their mystery was what Dr. Du Bridge referred to when he predicted new knowledge. These little things vanish—one knows where—after a few millionths of a second. Present belief is that they are really bits of pure energy which momentarily appear in the form of solid matter.

Kaiser-Frazer Cuts Prices 10 Per Cent On New Model Cars

Detroit, March 29—(AP)—Kaiser-Frazer Corp. slashed car prices and shifted top management today to strengthen its position in the increasingly competitive automotive industry.

The four-year-old firm now is completing its poorest three-month production period in more than a year. It attributed recent cutbacks to federal credit regulations, new relaxed, and changeover to new models.

Kaiser-Frazer's move was interpreted in industry circles as designed to capture a bigger share of the middle-priced car field. Its price cuts averaged better than 10 per cent, the third and highest in the industry since the war.

If said absorption of "starting-up costs required in establishing a new auto company" was an important reason for its action.

Up to March 26 K-F had turned out only 12,710 vehicles this year. This compared with 44,811 in a corresponding period last year.

Stevenson Declines Comment On Rents

Springfield, Ill., March 29—(AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson declined comment today on the compromise rent control bill passed by congress.

The governor said he will have nothing to say until he has had a chance to give the bill a complete study.

The bill permits cities, villages and towns to decontrol rents with the governor's approval.

Provisions Of Rent Bill Passed Yesterday

Washington, March 29—(AP)—Here's what the new rent bill does: 1. Continues rent ceilings for 15 months, to June 30, 1950.

A DAY WITH A SENATOR

"Before I came to Washington I thought I knew what I would be up against," Senator Paul Douglas of Illinois writes in the New York Times Sunday magazine. "But only the toad beneath the harrow can really feel the sharpness of the prongs. One must live the life of a senator to know its pains."

Senator Douglas gives his schedule for a typical day, which is as follows:

7-8:30 a. m. Rise, breakfast, read two morning papers and study memoranda for hearings.

8:30-9:30 a. m. Look over mail, answer some of the most important letters and block out day's policy with staff.

9:30-11 a. m. Hearings on Taft-Hartley repeal.

11-12. Hearings on the housing bill.

12-1 p. m. Work on correspondence and see visitors.

1-2 p. m. Lunch with constituents.

2-2:30 p. m. See delegations and telephone government departments.

2:30-5 p. m. Hearings on Taft-Hartley repeal.

5-6:30 p. m. Sign 250 pieces of mail, send telegrams on pressing matters of business.

6:30-7:30 p. m. Dinner with group which wants to consult on legislation.

7:30-10 p. m. Hearings on Taft-Hartley repeal.

10-12. Read two evening papers and several weekly journals. Clean up correspondence and study more material on Taft-Hartley law and housing problems, block out radio speech for next day.

12:30 a. m. Go to bed.

That's a back-breaking schedule. Mr. Douglas observes that he has practically no time to do his own digging into questions. He must rely on the research of his staff and the testimony at hearings. He is convinced that the seniority rule is a good one. He can't imagine a freshman like himself being qualified to hold a chairman's job effectively.

Yes, it's hard work—and nice work, too, if you can get it. There never has been a shortage of applicants.

Amvets In Favor Of More State
Aid For Schools

The educational committee of the Illinois Amvet organization went on record Sunday at Springfield as favoring any bill which would increase the equalization level per student through state aid. The committee pointed out that this means that more money would be available to improve the public school system.

Jacksonville Post 100 was represented at the six hour conference of the educational committee by Dr. Kenneth E. Follmar. Policies of the Amvets toward proposed educational legislation were formed at the meeting.

The Amvets are on record as favoring consolidation of small schools to increase efficiency in operation and expand the curricula. Increased appropriations to provide student transportation would be necessary in such areas. New buildings for consolidated districts were recommended.

In discussing the meeting of the educational committee, Dr. Follmar said that although Illinois ranks high nationally in regard to income, it is forty-fifth in per capita expenditure for education. The Amvets feel that this situation must be corrected, he said.

Red Cross Sewing,
Knitting Groups
Present Reports

Reports covering their activities since March 1, 1948, have been submitted by the sewing and knitting committees of the Morgan County Red Cross chapter.

Mrs. Frank Plouer, sewing chairman, reports that 144 girl's skirts, 48 boy's shorts, 11 girl's capes and 54 pairs of boy's overalls were made and shipped to the American National Red Cross Overseas warehouse in Washington, D. C. and from there were sent to war relief headquarters in Europe for distribution among the needy. Fifteen bedjackets, 146 bedpan covers and 25 hospital robes were sent to veterans and military hospitals in this country.

The committee at the present time is working on six light weight bathrobes for these hospitals. The quota will be completed by June.

The knitting committee, with Miss Ann Bellatti as chairman, assisted by Mrs. Alpha Applebee and Mrs. Frederick Causey, report the completion of 105 beanies, ten pairs of gloves, 48 V-neck sweaters and 86 cardigan sweaters for veterans and military hospitals by these committees.

The quotas accepted by these committees are designed by National Red Cross headquarters. The yarn and material for war relief garments is sent to the chapter from national headquarters without cost to the chapter while the materials for garments for military and veterans hospitals are purchased by the chapter.

Sportsmen's Club Will Sponsor Fishing Derby

A fishing derby for anglers in Jacksonville, Mauvalsterre and Morgan lakes this summer was planned by the Jacksonville chapter of the Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's clubs at a meeting Monday at the Amvet hall on West State street. The club plans to tag and release a number of full size game fish. When these are caught, the anglers will be rewarded. Dealers in sporting goods are cooperating with the club in providing prizes.

A committee consisting of Frank Branstetter, Allen Kelly, Thomas Brennan, N. N. Noudett and Ralph Withee was appointed to work out details for the fishing derby.

Leo Fuchs, vice-president, presided in the absence of Earl M. Spink, president of the Sportsmen's club. Plans were discussed for a quail restocking program headed by a committee of which Charles (Chuck) Rhodes is chairman. Applications for quail for restocking purposes should be made to Mr. Rhodes.

Members voted to hold regular meetings at the Amvet club rooms on the last Monday of each month. The club is preparing to build a number of brush piles in the water along the shores of Lake Mauvalsterre and Morgan lake to aid in the propagation of fish.

Moving pictures supplied by N. N. Noudett and Attorney Harry Story and Charles Rhodes were shown. The latter movies were taken while the Jacksonville men were on a deer hunting trip in Canada.

ROGER THE LODGER

By Elizabeth R. Roberts

THE STORY: Roger the Lodger who lives with Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, never more than a paying guest. It is wartime and Roger is a sergeant accounting appointment for officer training. Roger entertains high ranking officers, including a general, a major and a colonel, using the ration points of the Roberts family. Now he is taking Major and Mrs. Drummond to Yellowstone in the Roberts car, with Mrs. Roberts going along as a passenger. So far Roger has broken the speedometer and muffler, lost a hub cap, and the keys in the car and has just broken into the car by smashing a window.

several times in rapid frenzy. He slapped his breast pocket. Felt carefully in his watch pocket, sneaking up on it like a man touching a sore tooth with his tongue. Ran his hands into his pants pockets. Began all over again.

He began to look like a frenzied chicken locked out of the roost at night and crazily running from possible loophole to possible loophole trying to get in.

Major said, "Here. Keep your shirt on. I've got a match."
"Match, nothing!" Roger roared. "I've lost the key to the car."

HE did a quick search of his pockets again. "It was in my watch pocket. I always carry car keys there."

"And match folders," Major said scornfully.

"They just fit" Roger explained, becoming more calm, now that he had pooled his trouble.

"And keys just fit match folders, too," Major snapped. "I've heard of fool doings before in my life, but to carry a key loose in a pocket with match folders is asking for trouble. And we've got it."

he concluded grimly, Major Drummond picked up his flashlight and led us down to the shrubs below; mumbled as he turned the beam into the heavy foliage. "Needle in a haystack."

Not having eyes in the backs of our heads, we missed Old Faithful as we sagged out in foil, bottle tops, shiny leaves, bits of broken glass—all manner of small refuse from under the planting. But no key.

"If I call Rob now," I offered, "he could put my key on the midnight train to Billings, and it could catch a morning bus to the Park and perhaps reach us here by tomorrow night."

"Tomorrow night!" Major thundered in a crashing bellow. "I'm taking off for Alaska Tuesday. I'm getting out of here on the first bus." Straightening up, he continued, "And I'm eating my dinner now."

"Dinner!" Roger repeated hysterically. "How can you think of your stomach at a time like this? I'm in trouble."

"I can't eat," Major Drummond said.

"I can't eat," Roger said tragically. "It'd choke me."

"Something ought to," Major fired over his shoulder.

"Come on, Roger," I said. "Doing a Gandhi won't produce the key. No use starving yourself."

I left him disconsolately looking into space while I joined the Drummonds.

What Roger saw must have restored his appetite, for when we approached the dining room, he was already at the head of the line.

OLD FAITHFUL spouted, so we were told, while we were eating our steaks.

After dinner Major and Mrs. Drummond arranged space home by bus and left immediately to pack. Feeling certain my fate lay in my own hands now, I smiled sardonically at the transport agent and murmured, "Are you married?"

He stretched his neck to settle his collar, fingered his tie into position, stroked his hair, swallowed hard and replied, "I... well... this is—"

"I am," I explained quickly. "I just thought if you were, you'd understand better how it's my fault Roger threw the key to the car away."

The transportation agent looked hastily at Roger and then back at me.

"Oh, no. He's not my husband," I explained again. "Now, what I need is help. How are we going to get home? Roger doesn't want me to tell my husband he lost the key, and I left mine in Great Falls."

The agent finally got the drift. "Don't worry," he said. "There's a kid here who's clever at breaking into locked cars and twisting wires together and rigging up a dummy switch."

Old Faithful spouted while we hung anxiously over the transportation desk.

Bertha Sparks Admits Wielding Poker, Held On Murder Warrant

Seventy-two year old Bertha Sparks confessed at midnight Tuesday that she struck Mack Chaudoin, 71, on the head with a poker at her home, 334 East Washington street, where Chaudoin was found dead Saturday morning, surrounded by puddles of blood from a head wound.

Her confession came after prolonged questioning by officials, who have been working continuously to solve the mystery of Chaudoin's death.

Mrs. Sparks, who declared repeatedly earlier in the investigation that she did not know how the man was wounded, said in her signed confession that Chaudoin threatened her and advanced toward her with a knife. She said she threw the poker at him after striking him.

Her purported confession was made in the presence of several officers and investigators. A written confession followed verbal admissions.

A warrant charging Mrs. Sparks with murder was sworn out in the court of Justice C. S. Smith by Chief of Police Frank Kiloran, after which the defendant was returned to Passavant hospital under police guard. She has been under medical supervision since police were called to her home Saturday at 10:20 a.m., after the body was discovered.

Jacobs Denies Statement
In her statement of the alleged fight in her home, Mrs. Sparks said that Jim Jacobs was present when the argument occurred between her and Chaudoin. Jacobs denied that statement vehemently to investigators, contending that he was not present when Chaudoin was injured.

Mrs. Sparks in her confession also said Jacobs moved Chaudoin from the bed, which Jacobs denies.

Witnessing the signature of the woman to the written statement were William T. Wilson, assistant state's attorney; Norman J. Lee, chief investigator and William Abernethy, photographer (the detector) operator of the Illinois Bureau of Identification.

The break in the case was announced by State's Attorney Albert W. Hall, who with a number of officials worked all day Monday in interrogating witnesses. At least 24 persons were questioned. The polygraph was used by the state investigators in some instances.

Officials said that the polygraph was not used on Mrs. Sparks, but that the examination was limited to straight questioning without the scientific equipment.

A matron, Mrs. John Irlam, was with Mrs. Sparks at the court house during the period of questioning. Arraignment of Mrs. Sparks on the murder warrant is expected to be called within a short time. She told officials Saturday that she had been ill for a week. She was moved to Passavant hospital on order of the county physician.

Woman's Statement
Mrs. Sparks' statement follows: "My name is Bertha May Sparks and I live at 334 East Washington street. I will be 73 years old in August. I have lived at the above address for seven years this coming April.

"On Thursday, March 24, 1949, Mack Chaudoin came to my home and called me a series of foul names and everything like that. He said he was going to get his knife out and beat hell out of me. I called Mrs. Watts and asked her to call the police, that Mack was raising the dickens and tearing the house down. The police did come and get Mack after that.

"Mack came to the house at about noon on Friday, March 25, 1949, in between 12:00 and 1:00. He asked if I had any wine and I said I could send down for some.

"Jim Jacobs was there on Friday. He had a pint of wine with him on Friday. Mack stayed in the house all afternoon and during the late afternoon and evening.

"On Friday evening Mack and I had an argument. Jim Jacobs was there. He was in the front room in a rocking chair on the east side of the house while the argument was going on. Mack was sitting on a day bed and started arguing and calling me names as before. Jim and Mack had a fuss. I told Mack to shut his mouth and then he began on me. I was standing by the door leading to the middle room. Mack pulled his knife and said 'I can use this knife,' and I said, 'I can use this poker.' When he pulled his knife I took the poker down. It was hanging by the door. Mack came toward me. I told him,

"If you come any closer I'll hit you with this poker and I'm not going to run away." He advanced toward me, with the knife in his hand.

"Then I hit him with the poker and then threw it at him. When I hit Mack he fell to the floor and got up again. Then I went into the other room and fell. While in the other room I heard someone fall. I did not see him fall. Only Jim Jacobs and Mack were in the front room at the time. I heard them talking but I could not understand the conversation.

"After I threw the poker at him I did not put it in the stove.

"The next thing I remember after I fell on the floor in the bedroom, I saw Mack across my bed. I did not try to move him. After I saw Mack on the bed, Jim came and I told him to take Mack off of my bed. I told him that I had laid on the floor all night and I wanted to get to bed. I told him to get the chair and put him in it. He must have failed to get him into the chair and let him fall to the floor. I told Jim to go over to Mrs. Watts' and get her to help me up. He said 'Mack's messed all over the bed.' I said, 'Oh, my God.' When he dragged him off the bed I thought he was dead. Jim said that he was warm and still breathing.

"I was looking for Mrs. Watts to come over to help me. Jim dragged Mack toward the door.

"When 'Speck' Hocking came he helped me into the bed. Then Hocking looked at Mack and said 'That man's dead.' I said, 'Go and call the police.'

"The police came shortly after that.

"I said, 'Lay me here on the bed and I will lie here until the police come.'

"Jim said not to tell the police that he took him off the bed, that he would get into trouble for touching the dead man."

"Is there anything more you want to tell about the argument between you and Mack that we have not asked about? We want you to put into the statement anything else about the argument that you can think of."

"When he came at me I took the poker. I was standing in the doorway to the middle room."

"You have not been promised anything for your statement?"

"No."

"We have not advised you to make any statement at any time?"

"No."

"Before I have signed this statement I have been advised of my right not to answer any questions asked of me, that no promises have been made to me, that this statement may be used against me."

"This statement is signed by me freely, voluntarily and of my own accord without fear, threat, or promise of any kind."

HOLD 72 YEAR OLD WOMAN AS MURDER SUSPECT

Mrs. Bertha Sparks, 72, (center) is shown as she entered the Morgan county court house Monday where she was questioned concerning the death of Mack Chaudoin, who was found in her home last Saturday. After a number of hours of questioning, the woman admitted in the presence of officers that she struck Chaudoin on the head with a stove poker, claiming that he advanced toward her with a knife. She was accompanied to the court house by Patrolman Arthur Woods, at left, and Mrs. John Irlam, acting as matron. Mrs. Sparks, who told officers she has been ill, has been at Passavant hospital on order of the county physician. She signed a confession early Tuesday morning in which she asserted that she acted in self defense.
